TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1905. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR.

"MUST STICK TO MY SISTER."

Mrs. Smith's Answer When Asked If She Had Information Testified to Yesterday Since June.

OFFERED TO QUASH INDICTMENT

If She Would Tell—Said She Feared It Would Degrade and Incriminate Her.

SHE DECLINED A SECOND TIME.

Did This Even After Recorder Goff Had Directed Her to Make A Reply.

New York, April 28.—The story told by Mrs. J. Morgan Smith on the witness stand yesterday afternoon and the prospect of her cross-examination by counsel for the defense today served to intensify interest in the case of Nan Patterson, who is now on trial in the court of general sessions, charged with the murder of Caesar Young. The appearance of Mrs. Smith as a witness for the prosecution came in the nature of a surprise to the defense. Mr. Levy has said. He professed to be very well satisfied with the move, however, and said that cross-examination of the witness would afford him an opportunity to place before the jury evidence which could not be produced in any other way. He also believes, he said, that the direct testimony of Mrs. Smith has only served to strengthen the case of the prisoner, as it supports in many important details the testimony given by Miss Patterson herself at the last trial, a portion of which was read to the jury yesterday.

In the course of his examination, Mr. Rand asked Mrs. Smith if she had possessed all the information she has testified to in this trial all the time since she left New York last June. Mrs. Smith replied that she would like to answer that question, but feared it would tend to degrade and incriminate her as she is under indictment for conspiracy.

PROSECUTION'S PROMISE.

The prosecution then promised that if she would answer he would move next Monday to quash the indictment against her, but she declined to do so, and still she had an opportunity to consult her counsel.

After she had consulted with her counsel Mrs. Smith declined to answer the question. "I must stick to my sister," she told the prosecuting attorney as she resumed the stand.

"And you refuse to answer notwithstanding my promise in open court to have the indictment against you quashed," asked Mr. Rand.

"I do."

"Again I ask, were you in New York on June 8?"

"I decline to answer because my position might tend to degrade and incriminate me."

Recorder Goff directed the witness to answer the question. She still declined to do so, saying:

"I must stick to my sister."

"Will you answer if the indictment for conspiracy on which you are held is dismissed now?" broke in Mr. Rand.

"No," replied the witness.

DIRECT EXAMINATION RESUMED.

The direct examination of Mrs. Smith, which was not completed yesterday, was resumed today. Mrs. Smith testified yesterday that Miss Patterson had expected Caesar Young to get a divorce from his wife and marry her. She herself believed that Young intended eventually to marry her sister until last May, when Leslie Coggins told her that Young did not intend to get a divorce from his wife and marry her.

Miss Patterson became greatly excited when Coggins' statement was repeated to her. Mrs. Smith said:

"Taking up the examination where it was interrupted by the adjournment last night, Mr. Rand asked:

"Did not Coggins tell you that the best thing Young thought Nan could do was to accept Matt Trimble's offer of marriage?"

"He did not say anything like that to me," replied Mrs. Smith.

"Did Miss Patterson say that the cause of her emotion was that Coggins had misrepresented Young's intentions toward her?"

"She did not say so in those words, but I knew it."

NAN DIDN'T BELIEVE IT.

Mrs. Smith said Nan refused to believe the story told by Coggins. She was excited, the witness said, because she was disappointed at the postponement of her marriage to Young.

"She did not say anything about her future intentions?"

"No."

"She did not tell you what she was going to do?"

"No."

"And yet you described her as 'frantic and desperate'?"

"Yes."

and her return home about 3 o'clock the next morning.

About 7 o'clock that morning, she said, Young called on the telephone and said he wanted to meet Nan. Nan was asleep and the witness did not want to awaken her. Young called again, a little later, however, and repeated the request and within a few minutes called a third time. Mr. Smith then told him that Nan had got up and was on the way to meet him.

Refusing to give a reply to the question, Mr. Rand asked that for the purpose of testing the credibility of the witness he would ask her if she and her husband did not go to a hotel in Hoboken, N. J., where they were to register under assumed names.

Again she declined to answer. She said in answer to a question that she did not see Stern, had arranged to return to New York as soon as he saw her and her husband.

PRISONER MUCH AFFECTED.

The ordeal in the courtroom today proved almost too much for Nan Patterson. The resolute manner in which Mrs. Smith refused to answer questions put to her by the prosecuting attorney and her declaration that she would stand by her sister, affected the prisoner deeply and she was near a break down when the luncheon adjournment was announced.

After the adjournment Mrs. Smith appeared to be unstrung as a result of her experience as well and the two women spent the recess in their cells in the Tombs weeping in each other's arms.

PRESIDENT'S HEALTH

It Was Never Better in All His Life.

Glenwood Springs, Colo., April 28.—A rumor reached here today that the president was slightly indisposed yesterday and did not participate in the hunt. In response to an inquiry by the press, Mr. Roosevelt said that he was feeling better than he has for some time.

Southern hunters are hunting the shoon of Frank Hayes, the local taxidermist, in counting the skins sent in by the president. He is going away from the feet of the bears killed. His mail is growing heavier every day because of the prominence given him as the hunter of the trophies from the president's hunt.

It is now in order to quit knocking and hoot for Salt Lake, all together, in one long sustained chorus. Will the Tribune please take notice?

FRENCH CANAL ENGINEER.

M. Guerard Named for Panama Canal Commission.

Washington, April 28.—Ambassador Jusserand today informed Secy. Taft that the French government had designated M. Guerard as the French member of the board of consulting engineers attached to the isthmian canal commission. M. Guerard is one of the French engineers who were being considered for the position of chief engineer of the canal.

He was formerly engineer in chief of Marseilles harbor.

ESLEY DODSON ARRESTED.

For Murder of William Dunlap, An Aged Miner.

Portland, Ore., April 28.—A special to the Oregonian from Grant Pass, Ore., states that Esley Dodson has been arrested at that place and Andrew Ingram at Crescent City, Cal., for the murder in 1903 of William Dunlap, an aged miner who lived on Louise Creek six miles from Grant Pass. The information which led to the issuing of the warrants was given by Lloyd Ingram, a son of Andrew Ingram. Young Ingram's story is that Dunlap was murdered by his father and Dodson for the purpose of robbing the old man. Ingram said that he was present when the murder was committed and was compelled by the alleged murderers to help search the house. He says that he does not know how much Dodson and his father secured but that $12 was found in the house. Young Ingram, who is 17 years old, states that his reason for telling is that he is in fear of his father and the other men in the neighborhood of Crescent City, where he has been at work, to give the information. Dodson is a miner of good reputation.

DR. OSLER'S FAREWELL.

Homeopathic Brethren Should Come Into the Fold.

Baltimore, April 28.—In his farewell address to the medical profession of Maryland before leaving for his post as regent of the University of Oxford, Dr. William Osler urged the fusion of medical colleges of the United States and the other cities of the country.

Medicine gives more hope for humanity than anything else he said, in combination and reciprocity are the great needs. Reciprocity between the state boards also should be extended. He believed that a factor's act should not be limited in moving from state to state.

It is time, he continued, "that the homeopathic brethren were coming into the fold. A difference in degree should no longer separate men with the same hope. The original quarrel is ours, but the homeopaths should not allow themselves to be separated by a schism which is inconsistent with their practice today."

The most dangerous foe to medical science is apathy. Thirty-five per cent of deaths in a community are due to apathy which goes to counterbalance the advance of medicine in the last century."

Western Pacific Begins Work in Salt Lake

First Ground Broken on Ninth South Street This Morning and First Consignment Of Rails Will Reach Here Sunday—Official Announcement That Construction on the Salina Cut-off is to Begin at Once.

First ground on the Western Pacific was broken in Salt Lake this morning when 57 Greeneks went to work on Ninth South on the west side of the main line of the Rio Grande Western. This afternoon they had considerable preliminary grading done and by tomorrow morning the gang will be largely increased, and the mighty work pushed vigorously.

In addition, the first consignment of 25 cars of rails for the Western Pacific left Pueblo yesterday consigned to Salt Lake and due to reach here on Sunday.

Orders have also been issued by General Superintendent A. E. Welby of the Rio Grande to get ready for work on the Salina cut-off, and it is anticipated that early next week men will be shipped to Salina and will be put to work repairing the grade already built up the canyon, which has been damaged by washouts, prior to rushing work on the completion of the road through to Green River.

This in brief is the good word that is released today and shows that George Gould has taken off his coat and is preparing to spend many millions in Utah in the development of the state. Incidentally it may be observed that he has thrown the gauntlet down to the Harriman interests.

It is now in order to quit knocking and hoot for Salt Lake, all together, in one long sustained chorus. Will the Tribune please take notice?

Mr. E. J. Yard, chief engineer for the Denver & Rio Grande, and consulting engineer for the Gould interests and Western Pacific, arrived in Salt Lake from Denver last night and is on the ground superintending the preliminary activities. In the meantime the steam shovel, dirt cars and other grading equipment have all been overhauled here and are in splendid shape to commence work at an hour's notice.

The first intimation that anything out of the ordinary was immediately under way, came from Mr. Welby this morning when he was seen in his office following his return from Denver.

It will be impossible to tell what the outcome is to be in several hours. The entire left side is paralyzed.

DESERTED HIS WIFE.

After 40 Years' Absence Man Left Fortune to His Family.

New York, April 28.—Dispatches from Pittsburgh announcing that by the will of David James (who died there Saturday) a large fortune was left to his wife and three sons in Brooklyn 40 years ago, have proved a great surprise to the only living son, who still resides in Brooklyn and gains a livelihood as a stationary engineer.

The will, which has just been opened, is in the nature of an atonement to the deserted family as it gives them an estate worth $15,000. It shows that Jameson went to Pittsburgh, changed his name and married another woman, who now dead. She knew nothing of his double life and the family in Brooklyn long gave up the husband and father as dead. One after another they dropped off until now only the one son remained and he will receive the entire estate.

It appears that Jameson was stricken 15 years ago with cancer and underwent a painful operation, losing his right arm by degrees and finally part of his collar bone, but the disease finally won.

The surviving son tells a sad story of how his mother struggled to educate and support her children after the father disappeared. She took in washing and succeeded in her task, however, and when the sons grew up they supported her. She died last August. One of the boys lost his life accidentally three years ago, while the eldest died 10 years ago. No word was ever received of the father from the day of his disappearance until reporters enquired to the tenement where the engineer lives, word of his good fortune.

PRESIDENT'S YACHT.

Reasons Why Capt. Hoteville d Not Give It Assistance.

New York, April 28.—Because he considered the yacht to be immediately dangerous, had a perishable cargo, which would make any delay on his own part dangerous and had no towing gear, are the reasons given by Capt. Hoteville, who still resides in Brooklyn and gains a livelihood as a stationary engineer, for his failure to go to the assistance of President Roosevelt's yacht Slyph when she was lying disabled south of Bodie's Island, N. J., and for the first time since the incident Capt. Hoteville had an opportunity to give his version of the affair.

"We were steaming along under full headway when we sighted flare lights on a vessel ahead. This vessel was about eight miles off the land and 16 miles south of Bodie's Island. The night was clear and the weather good. As we approached I pulled the bell to stop the engine, the wire broke and before I could communicate with the engineer we were out of range of hearing. As soon as the wire broke I made ready to halt the distressed craft. A hail came from the vessel and I answered: 'No, I cannot drop your anchor; you are in 14 fathoms of water; I'll report you to the Marine.'"

He reported the ship's distress to the pilot and told him to send a tug. We had a perishable cargo on board. The yacht was in no danger and as I had no towing gear, I did the best thing I could under the circumstances."

Cardinal Aguti Dead.

Rome, April 28.—Cardinal Andrea Aguti, archbishop of Verona, who for some time has been suffering from liver trouble, died today. He was born in 1849, and was created a cardinal in 1903.

CHICAGO TEAMSTERS ARE ENJOINED.

Judge Kohlsaat Issues an Injunction at Instance of Employers' Association.

Chicago, April 28.—Judge C. C. Kohlsaat, of the United States circuit court, today granted an injunction to the Employers' association of Chicago restraining all persons from interfering with the movements of the association's wagons upon the street or in any way obstructing the business of members of the association. The injunction is temporary and is returnable May 10. It is specifically directed against the teamsters' joint council of Chicago.

Soldiers seen on the streets in the business districts here today gave rise to reports that troops from Fort Sheridan had already been ordered to Chicago to suppress rioting in connection with the wholesale sympathetic strike growing out of the troubles of the garment workers and teamsters. Rumor had it that the "regiment" were quartered in the new postoffice. At Fort Sheridan it was denied that any troops had been sent to Chicago as a result of the strike.

Immediately following the granting of the injunction the Chicago Employers' association placed all its wagons with notices reading as follows:

"The United States circuit court has enjoined interference of any kind with this property and its drivers."

The injunction was issued on the grounds that the Employers' Teaming company is a corporation organized in West Virginia, and is a corporation of a foreign state, and has the right of protection under the federal government. No attempt was made to secure the protection of the federal courts under the interstate commerce act. Besides the teamsters' joint council, the injunction names all persons who were served with an injunctive writ of the state courts several days ago. As soon as the injunction had been filed in court 20 copies of the order were given to United States Marshal John C. Ames, and he was asked to serve all persons named in the order as soon as possible. Six deputy marshals were called into Marshal Ames' office and given instruction to serve the papers at once.

Violence renewed. Scenes of violence in connection with the strike began promptly today, the first victim being a colored teamster employed by the A. M. Forbes cartage company, who was chased by a mob in Desplaines street and kicked and beaten into insensibility. Arrival of a squad of police put an end to the disturbance. The negro was taken to a hospital where he is expected to be severely cut and bruised.

UNION PICKETS. The greatest number of union pickets were stationed today about barns of the Employers' Teaming company in Eighteenth street near State. The non-union teamsters are housed in these stables. Special details of policemen were stationed to the stables to protect the non-union men, as it was feared that the most serious disturbances would occur in the vicinity of these barns.

EMPLOYERS AGGRESSIVE. Employers today were aggressive in operating with non-union teamsters. Under the escort of 70 policemen, 24 wagons were sent to the city hall. Field & Co.'s stables, notwithstanding that the street in front of the company's barns was crowded with teams and strike sympathizers. Non-union teamsters on the wagons were jeered and hooted at by the mob while a number of teamsters wearing union buttons attempted to form blockades. Prompt action by the police forced a passage for the non-union conveyances.

Closely guarded by a hundred private detectives eight coal wagons owned by the Employers' Teaming company, left the stables in Eighteenth street on a trip to the foot of South Water street.

Fifty negroes from the south who are to take the places of the strikers arrived in a box car today. They were placed in coal wagons belonging to the Employers' Teaming company and taken to the barns of the J. V. Farwell company. Occasional bottles and other missiles were thrown from windows at the new comers, but the negroes escaped injury.

Sixty drivers for Hillman's State street department store joined the strikers' ranks today.

The striking unions declared a boycott on the Great Northern building and also on the Heyworth building, Madison street and Washburn avenue. Union officials said today that they had learned that since the strike was called at the Ward company, 500 tons of coal had been stored in the sub-cellar of the Heyworth building and was being used as a supply for the Ward company.

GOOD OR NOT GOOD? Dispute on as to Genuineness of Coins Found on Fifth East. At police headquarters there is a dispute on as to the coins found yesterday afternoon, an account of which appeared in last evening's "News."

The property on which the coins were found, is owned by Mrs. Emily Clawson, and is on Fifth East between South Temple and First South. The point where the stuff was found is 19 rods from the street, and the coins were only two feet below the surface. The collection consists of Mexican dollars, English six-pences, dimes, quarters, half dollars and dollars in American coin. The latest date of any of the pieces is 1856, while the earliest date is 1818. The Mexican money was in an old coin, while the other coins were in a box.

The dispute at police headquarters is as to whether the coins are genuine or not. Some credit the coins as being genuine, while others believe they are "phony," or bogus. This morning Captain Hurd and Judge Diehl stated that they would gladly give the month's salary for the lot of coins. On the other hand, some of the detectives say there is no reason to believe the money is good.

W. A. Wright, who brought the stuff to police headquarters yesterday afternoon, put some of the coins in a pot of boiling lead. In a few seconds the pieces were melted and not a trace of silver could be found. As soon as possible the coins will be turned over to an expert, when the dispute will probably be settled.
